Top award for youth service

A former president of Optimist International, Gene H. Sternberg, a Southern Illinois general contractor who has spoken extensively on behalf of the Boy Scouts of America, was one of 14 persons honored by the BSA with its highest award for volunteer service to youth.

President of the contracting firm of G. H. Sternberg & Co., Granite City, he received the Silver Buffalo award during the closing program of the Biennial National Council meeting, held in late May at the New Orleans Hilton Hotel, attended by 3,000 adult volunteer and professional scout leaders.

"He brings wisdom and dedication to scouting and has given much to our movement," asserted John Starr of Kansas City, Mo., chairman of BSA's national Court of Honor, in presenting the medallion and accompanying citation.

Sternberg, who joined scouting as a boy, has been president of the Cahokia Mound Council, headquartered in Granite City, and has been a member of BSA's national executive board since 1976.

The Silver Buffalo has been presented by the Boy Scouts of America since 1926 for distinguished service to boyhood.

The award is made for "noteworthy service of a national or worldwide character, both to men and women associated with scouting and to others not directly related to the scouting movement."

Formerly active on scouting's area level and a member of the North Central Region committee for the past eight years, Sternberg holds the Silver Beaver and Silver Antelope awards, recognizing outstanding service to youth on the council and regional levels.

He has chaired the Religious Relationships Committee of the National Council, BSA, and is the Experiment with new school roofs

How to achieve improved school roofs is receiving major attention from the Granite City district, and board members Tuesday night endorsed a plan to experiment with new roofing methods.

Specific bid awards were withheld for Prather Junior High School and Lake Elementary School after Board Member David Partney suggested consideration of alternate roofing at an added cost of about $60,000, citing its apparent durability and ten-year guarantee.

After concern was voiced about added weight, perhaps leading to sagging and related leaking, it was decided to defer all action until structural engineers can evaluate the weight factor.

A study also was authorized on the possibility of quick work on the Granite City High School North roof to avoid loss of ceiling tiles during heavy rains. It was noted that the amount spent on Prather and Lake will affect how many other school roof improvements can be carried out with current reserve funds.

Ronald Landman, school district maintenance supervisor, told the board that "the specifications for tonight's bids were drawn around four different types of roofing systems at each of the two schools."

"The four types provided contractors the opportunity to bid on any one or all. They were:

"Spray urethane foam roofing. Four-ply conventional roofs with tapered insulation. And single-ply roofing with insulation."

"Spray foam and single-ply are comparatively new types of roofing systems. However, they are being used throughout the country with a great deal of success."

"The conventional roofs we have been installing haven't been holding up," Landman said. "Perhaps new roofing systems should be investigated, not only for the work to be done on Prather and Lake but for future work needed on other buildings."

"Spray foam roofing has a five-year guarantee; the four-ply roofs have two-year guarantees; and the single-ply have ten-year guarantees. The spray foam contractors are from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri and Illinois."

"The specifications on the spray foam required that the contractor be licensed as an applicator by Dow Corning, General Electric or 3M Co.; that he have five years of experience as a licensed applicator; and that he provide a list of references of work previously completed."

"The single-ply with insulation specified four roofing systems as manufactured by Carlisle Rubber, Trocal, Derbigum and Garland Co."

"For Prather, we recommend accepting the bid for spray foam from Professional Urethane, LaCrosse, Wis., at the low bid of $114,700. This firm has

$9 million awarded to GC contractor

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

A $9,200,000 verdict for former residential developer James Green was returned by the jury Tuesday night as Green's lawsuit against the Alton Telegraph Printing Co. and former Telegraph reporters Joe Melosi and William Lhotka came to a close after five and a half weeks of testimony.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated four and a half hours before announcing its verdict at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The verdict included $6,700,000 in actual damages, more than had been requested by Green's attorney, Rex Carr, and $2,500,000 in punitive damages.

Carr had asked the jury to consider giving Green $6,045,000 for actual damages, $1 million for damage to Green's reputation and $3,500,000 in punitive damages.

He said the jury could have awarded an even higher amount for punitive damages, commenting, "You may think the sin they have done is so great...you may feel $10 million is enough to punish and to deter."

The "sin" to which Carr referred was the sending of a memo by Melosi and Lhotka to the U.S. Justice Department in Washington, D.C., in 1969; the memo alleged that money from organized crime was being placed into the former First Federal Savings and Loan Association and then was being funneled to Green and others for construction projects.

Testimony showed that the unsubstantiated allegations in the memo were sent by the Justice Department to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Chicago, which regulates savings and loan institutions in the state.

The FBI's conducted an investigation into Piassa's books and borrowers and reported that it appeared Piassa was making heavy concentrations of loans to about eight borrowers, primarily Green.

To satisfy the FBI's testimony indicated, Piassa initially froze loans to all borrowers and later imposed a maximum lending limit which had the effect of keeping Green from getting further loans.

With his cash flow halted, Green was unable to finish several large construction projects he had under way, including half of the Gaslight Walk Apartments complex, and his construction empire collapsed, according to Carr.

In his closing arguments Tuesday, Carr said he felt Melosi, Lhotka and Reactions are mixed

Reactions by the attorneys on Tuesday's $9.2 million verdict in the James Green versus the Alton Telegraph case were mixed Wednesday.

Rex Carr of East St. Louis, attorney for Green, called the decision "a super verdict by a super jury—and completely justified."

William Coy, attorney for the Telegraph, said he was "stunned" and added, "I'm surprised at the verdict, as well as the size of the verdict."

Green said he did not want to be interviewed at this time, and would let Carr speak for him. He said occurrences which led up to the lawsuit have made him distrust news reporters, but commended the Press-Record for "fair and impartial coverage of the trial. I think you guys did a good job covering this trial and I thank you," Green said.

Carr said he was thrilled by the verdict, not only for Green but for

Robert Degrand, "even more than for Jim Green."

Degrad was vice-president of Piassa First Federal Savings and Loan when Green's empire collapsed, followed by the downfall of Piassa.

"Jim (Green) actually was a success, but he never lived as a success and this really did affect his lifestyle as much as it did Degrand," Carr said.

"After all this happened, for a long period of time, Degrand could not even get a job. His wife had to go to work. They had to find a way to put their kids through college and he has been fighting this battle for years."

"He knew from way back that something horrible had happened, but didn't know what. This is vindication for him," Carr said.

He added, "We have shown in this case the downfall of Piassa was unwarranted and was caused, not only

Due to the resignation of Tully A. Heubner and the death of Gerald W. Brown, two key administrative positions are open in the Granite City School District.

The Board of Education decided Tuesday night to advertise both positions and to perhaps change the two titles. Heubner is director of business affairs and will be here through July; Brown was administrative assistant for personnel.

It is planned to consider Granite City faculty members; faculty members from elsewhere; and also non-school individuals with business or personnel experience.

$588,000 for streets

By HARRY BARNES of the Press-Record

An appropriation of $588,000 in motor fuel tax funds for maintenance and improvement of Granite City streets was approved by the City Council Tuesday night despite suggestions by several aldermen that the city buy equipment, hire additional street employees and do its own street improvement work.

In a related action, the council also approved a motion that City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell "be instructed" to make repairs to the street and sidewalks in the 2300 block of

Two men have been arrested in connection with an alleged conspiracy in which Thomas W. Batey, 36, of 2001

Washington Ave., is said to have hired Thomas D. Parmer, 19, of 2324 Hodges Ave., to burn a house Batey owned at 2210 Illinois Ave.

Parmer allegedly poured 10 gallons of gasoline throughout the house the night of May 14 and set fire to it, destroying the structure and a neighboring home.

Parmer, who was arrested at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday, has been charged with two counts of aggravated arson and one count of conspiracy to commit

It's like working in a sardine can, some county workers feel

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record
"We're like a bunch of sardines in here," is how members of the family division staff of the Madison County Circuit clerk's office described their new home in the basement of the county courthouse at Edwardsville. The division, which consists of three full-time people, two part-timers and bunches and bunches of filing cabinets containing all of the county's divorce and adoption records since 1975, was moved from comparatively spacious quarters on the fifth floor of the former bank building across from the courthouse into an area roughly the size of a mobile home in the courthouse basement, space formerly occupied by the traffic division of the circuit clerk's office. There, the employees survive by walking sideways, scooting up tightly into their desks when someone else needs to open a filing cabinet, and entering the room through the rear door, since the opening in the front counter is far too narrow for a normal-sized person to pass through.

The filing cabinets, containing more than 17,000 complete files, take up far more room than the employees, and when a drawer is opened to remove or examine a file, it is impossible for the employees to walk past, until the drawer is closed, this reporter observed.

"It's insane," is how Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell described the situation. The county buildings committee decided to move the family division in the shuffle when the sheriff's department moved from the bank building's main floor and many departments shuffled for more space.

The supervisor of assessments is moving into the former sheriff's department office and the building and zoning department of Paul Hawkins will find more space on the fifth floor of the bank building, former home of the family division. Even the Maps and Plats Department will find more room, by moving from the courthouse to the bank building as a generous amount of money has been appropriated to fix up the basement of that building for its new home.

The family division was the victim of the "more space" move, finding itself jammed into much less space in a portion of the area formerly occupied by the traffic division, where traffic tickets are paid. The traffic division scooted sideways into the former building and zoning office.

Portell blames the buildings committee of the Madison County Board for the move. "The appointed officials of this county get everything they want and plenty of space. The elected officials get shoved around, because we have no representation on the County Board," Portell contended.

Portell has frequently expressed displeasure with the treatment he and other elected officials receive from the County Board. "The departments with appointed heads are controlled by County Board committees which are aware of the problems those departments have."

"When we try to tell them our problems," Portell contended, "they just say, 'You'll get by.'"

"The family division is a good example. You've seen it," Portell told this reporter, who had to agree.

Possible ruse on nurse test papers

Beware! That is the word from Acting Director James D. Nowlan of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education about a possible ruse involving the nationwide examination for registered nurses to be given this summer.

Certain individuals are reported to be stating they possess the examination, Nowlan said, and are soliciting examination applicants to purchase the tests "under the guise and misrepresentation" that the material is the National State Board Test Pool Examination.

"That is absolutely wrong," the director said, explaining that the material being offered is either the preparatory examination sponsored by the Nurses Examination Institute (NEI) or a similar preparatory examination.

Nowlan emphasized that the NEI "is not, in any manner, connected with the alleged solicitations."

Any similarity in the NEI preparatory examination and the National State Board Test Pool Examination is "purely coincidental," he said, "and the security afforded the national examination precludes prior disclosure."

"I request that anyone so solicited report it to the department's investigative division," The telephone numbers are: 312-755-4544 for the Chicago office and 217-785-0905 for the Springfield office.

Between 6,500 and 8,000 registered nurse candidates are scheduled to take the test July 9 and 10 in five different locations in Illinois.

The sites and the estimated number of test-takers at each one are:

CHICAGO: (1) Apparel Center, Merchandise Mart (1,800-1,900); (2) Conrad Hilton Hotel (1,000); and (3) Donnelly Hall, McCormick Place West (1,800-1,900).
ROSEMONT: O'Hare Holiday Inn (1,000).
SPRINGFIELD: Prairie Capital Convention Center (1,300).

The National State Board Test Pool Examination is developed by the National League for Nursing at the direction of the National Council of State Boards of Nursing.

It is given uniformly throughout the 50 states on the same dates in order to ensure as common a base as possible for purposes of security, reciprocity and uniformity of standards among the states.

Examinations for registered nurses are given in February and July each year. The tests for licensed practical nurses are given each April and October.

Nursing is one of the 32 professional and occupational groups licensed and regulated by the Department of Registration and Education, which issues 100 different licenses in those categories. Nearly 90,000 persons are licensed and regulated by the department.

Hope for a Davinroy-Price debate

A debate by the 23rd District Congressional candidates may be on the horizon. Or it may not.

Ronald L. Davinroy, the Republican nominee, has written Congressman Melvin Price (Democrat) as follows:

"I enjoyed talking with you on May 17 at the mayors' meeting on revenue sharing, in Collinsville.

"This is to confirm our discussion after this meeting and your agreement to participate in a public discussion and debate of the issues in the 23rd District with me during this campaign.

"Preliminary plans are now under way for space and available dates at Fischer's in Belleville and for non-partisan host participation. I'm sure your staff will want to help with the arrangements, and we welcome their involvement.

"Please send us a list of available dates and times that you would prefer by June 12, so that the most convenient arrangements for your attendance and participation can be coordinated.

"Mr. Price, I appreciate your willingness to participate in this public exchange, which will benefit the citizens of the 23rd District through better understanding of the challenges of the '80s," Davinroy concluded.

William Hart, an aide to Cong. Price, said last week there has been no agreement to debate.

He said Price replied to Davinroy's request May 17 by saying, "Maybe, if I have time."

Summer choruses to begin

The Granite City Park District "Music Under the Stars" summer choruses will begin rehearsals on Monday, June 9, at the Granite City High School South vocal room.

Mrs. Mary Ann Bright will be conducting, for her seventh season, the adult and children's choruses.

Both choruses are non-audition. Adults and children simply need to attend the rehearsals in order to participate. A background background is not necessary, and all ages are welcome.

The children's chorus, for elementary school children through junior high students, will meet from 1 to 2 p.m. every Monday and Thursday beginning June 9.

The adult chorus, for high school students, college students, adults and senior citizens will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. every Monday and Thursday, also starting June 9.

Children and adults may begin participation any time during June and July. Perfect attendance is not required, but is encouraged due to the few number of rehearsals between concerts.

After each concert, entirely new music is started, so there are ample opportunities to join, Mrs. Bright said.

A concert is presented every two weeks during June and July. Concert dates this season are Tuesdays, June 17, July 1, July 15 and July 29.

The concerts are held at the Wilson Park ice rink at 8 p.m. Admission is free and the park district provides ample seating.

Interested citizens may call the park district office for any additional information.

Rain dampens 'survival' trip

Scouts of Troop 7, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, participated in a near-wilderness survival camping adventure at Pere Marquette State Park, Youth Camping Area, on two days last month. Parents provided transportation for Scouts and their gear.

Early Scout arrivals at the campsite carried gear nearly 1/4 of a mile up a steep hill. Park Rangers assisted Scouts in transporting the remaining gear.

Scouts enjoyed some activities in spite of weather conditions. Some hiked from the camping area to the main part of the park. Wet wood for fires was no deterrent to Scouts who provided new menus at mealtime.

Early morning rain flooded tents, causing personal gear to get soaked. With that and a forecast of evening rain, the group voted to leave early.

Rain on the first day did not stop most Scouts from participating in the camp-out. Nineteen of 24 Scouts who were scheduled to go, attended the event. This was a record for the Troop.

OMINOUS CLOUDS in the southeast skies over the Press-Record building Wednesday morning as the city's tornado warning siren sounded at 10:13. Several funnel clouds had been sighted by the public in Creve Coeur and Webster Groves in Missouri during this time. A brief, hard rain fell in the Quad-City area, but the skies cleared and temperatures rose from the mid-50's to the mid-70's after the period of showers.

Venice plans crackdown on stop sign violators

The Venice City Council Tuesday night requested the Venice Police to watch sections of the city more closely for autos violating stop signs and creating a danger for children and elderly pedestrians.

The violators are not limited to young hooligans, the aldermen remarked, noting many adults "have been seen violating stop signs."

Alderman Victor Valentine warned, "It could be your own kids you are running over."

Another traffic hazard was pointed out by Alderman Phil Daniels, who said a portion of the old Broadway median at Second Street is forcing cars to swerve to avoid striking it and many are swerving into the lanes of oncoming traffic. The city's street superintendent, Tom Scaturro, said he would inspect the area and determine if part of the median can be removed.

Daniels suggested about eight feet of the median should be taken off. The problem was created when Broadway was rerouted to the new underpass.

Alderman Daniels asked Mayor Echols to appoint a second alderman for the First Ward to fill the vacancy created when Harry Buente retired in September, 1979.

Daniels said that his work schedule has made it difficult for some people to reach him, leaving them without a de qu a t e representation. He also said he may have to work when some council meetings are held, leaving Ward One without a representative at those meetings.

Mayor Echols responded, "That's a decision I'm still thinking about. Meanwhile, it is saving the city money. They're represented now, they just have to reach you during your hours. You only work eight hours a day. That leaves 16 hours for them to reach you."

Later, Echols told the Press-Record that he has been getting to know the residents of the First Ward since he became mayor and did not feel he should appoint anyone he did not know well. He also said he hoped to finish the city's fiscal year before filling the vacancy.

The council agreed to pay for bus transportation for the Silver Bells senior citizens' group on two trips this month. Monday, June 16, a bus will be provided to take them to Bethalto for a picnic with other senior citizens' groups and on Tuesday, June 17, the seniors plan to use a bus for a fishing trip near Grafton.

The council agreed to use the newspaper to ask citizens to move their cars on mornings when street sweeping is done. They discussed putting up new signs for street sweeping, but Mayor Echols said the signs are too expensive and are stolen in a short period of time.

Alderman John Ervin agreed, noting that each sign costs $25 and posts are $15 each. He suggested instead that signs be put up, but Mayor Echols said he felt such signs would be torn down as fast as the city could put them up.

"Most people comply when it is put in the paper," Echols said. When a schedule for street sweeping is completed, it will be announced in the Press-Record.

The town's ministers also will be asked to announce the schedule at church services and city officials will explain the schedule at meetings of the senior citizens, the aldermen agreed.

The aldermen jointly praised the street department and the Manpower workers for cleaning up the town and boarding up vacant and burned structures. "The city is looking pretty good now. I commend the street department. I also think this is the best Manpower crew we've had," Mayor Echols

City may bill Venice for a fire radio that fell in the Mississippi River while Granite City firemen assisted Venice firemen in fighting a blaze aboard the Senator Sam tugboat. Ervin said he did not feel the city should have to pay for the expensive radio.

Fire Chief William Meehan said his understanding of the mutual aid pact, in which the fire departments agree to help each other on major fires, is that "each department is responsible for its own equipment."

Mayor Echols said that Venice officials have not yet been contacted by Granite City about paying for the radio and suggested the issue be dropped unless there is a request for payment.

Trinity Church of Christ has given permission to hold its annual street services on Saturdays from 5:30 to 8 p.m. during June, July, August and part of September.

Suspect arson in auto fire

An arsonist apparently was responsible for a fire that damaged a 1974 beige over brown sedan, parked in the 2100 block of Lee Avenue at 2:35 a.m. Wednesday.

The blaze was started inside and around the fuel filler spout of the gasoline tank.

An employee of St. Elizabeth Medical Center first saw the fire and notified police.

An officer said numerous paper matches were found on the trunk lid and pavement near the vehicle and an unknown accelerant apparently was used to ignite the gas tank.

A gasket around the filling spout was burning when the officer arrived at the scene.

The blaze, which was extinguished by firefighters, caused damage to the vehicle's vinyl roof, trunk lid, left rear fender and rear window. Smoke also damaged the interior.

Owner of the auto, Molly Malone, was visiting friends at an address in the 2100 block of Lee.

BURGLARIZE OFFICE

A $150 desk calculator and a $20 pocket calculator were stolen during a burglary at the office of Aetna Freight Lines, 1556 State St., early last week. The office was ransacked and a fire extinguisher was sprayed around the office. There were no signs of forced entry.

FIRE DAMAGES CAR
A market for backfire caused an estimated $200 damage to the auto of Dorothy Niepert, 2641 E. 28th St., during the weekend at 27th Street and Wilson Park Lane. Firemen were on the scene 20 minutes.

Negotiations set for 2 unions at A. O. Smith plant

While 650 members of United Auto Workers Local 1715 remained on strike at the A.O. Smith auto frames plant for the 58th day today, arrangements were completed for beginning negotiations for new working agreements for two other unions at the plant.

Contract talks are scheduled to begin next Wednesday for members of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 309 and of the District 9 Machine Union, according to a plant spokesman.

Approximately 60 workers in both unions are involved in the discussion of new agreements, although all have been off their jobs because of the UAW picket lines.

Meanwhile, Paul Kelly, plant manager, said that only a few members of the UAW would be called back if the eight-week strike were to end, because of the cutback in orders for auto frames. The plant manufactures auto frames for General Motors cars.

Kelly said the only ones to come back would be maintenance personnel, which comprises only a small fraction of the 650 workers off on strike.

Union officials said an early end of the strike is unlikely. One official said the union still is paying strike benefits, but they are smaller than unemployment compensation would be if the strike ended.

Supervisory employees at the plant still are producing station wagon frames for General Motors to retain their jobs. "If we were not producing these frames, the work most certainly would go to a competitor," Kelly said. No further contract talks are scheduled between plant officials and UAW representatives. Any meetings will be arranged by the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service at Clayton, Mo., which entered the contract dispute at the time the strike began April 8.

Award to Huckla

"I couldn't believe the person they were talking about was me," said Edward Huckla, one of this year's Special Award recipients at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The Special Awards are given to associates (employees) for outstanding services extended to the Medical Center's patients and associates. But Huckla received his award for "just being himself."

He has lived in Madison most of his life, and has worked as a housekeeper at SEMC for more than 20 years.

When visitors, patients or associates enter the ground floor corridors of SEMC, they are likely to be greeted by the smiling housekeeper, who always offers a little friendly conversation.

He regards his work as "a nice job," with the more enjoyable aspects including the people he works with and the people he sees every day.

EDWARD HUCKLA has received this year's Special Award from St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The award reads, "In appreciation and gratitude for 20 years of warm smiles, bright halls and loyal service. You are special to us."

"One of the things I like best about my job is being around a lot of people," he sums up.

Summer chorus reports openings

High school, college, and adult singers can join the Belleville Area College Summer Community Chorus without audition. The chorus will rehearse each Monday and Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 beginning June 9. The group will give a concert on July 15.

The chorus offers one hour of college credit or may be taken as an audit without credit. Tuition is $15.

The Community Chorus is under the direction of A. Dennis Sparger, director of choral activities at BAC since 1966.

With bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern Illinois University, he is presently completing his doctorate in choral conducting from the University of Illinois.

He served as music director for the European tour of the Illinois Youth Chorale for the last two years and will fulfill those responsibilities again this year, visiting the Netherlands, Belgium, France, West Germany, East Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

A variety of music will be sung by the group, including American sacred music, choral music by European masters, American folk songs and spirituals, and other music to help singers keep or get their voices in top shape.

Information about the summer chorus may be obtained from Sparger at 235-2700, extension 249, or at 235-2340.

SOPRANO ERIE MILLS, center, formerly of Granite City, is directed by Rhoda Levine, left, in the Opera Theater of St. Louis production of Verdi's comedy, Falstaff. Evening performances are scheduled at 8 o'clock Friday,

Soprano Erie Mills in Falstaff

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

Erie Mills, whose name is widely recognized by area music lovers, is singing the role of Nanetta in the Opera Theater of St. Louis production of Verdi's comedy, Falstaff.

The current opera season marks the third appearance with the Opera Theater for the former Granite City soprano.

Last year, she sang Zerbinetta in Ariadne on Naxos and Lauretta in Gianni Schicchi.

Falstaff, Giuseppe Verdi's last opera, and his comic companion piece to Othello, is considered by many to be his masterpiece.

The opera is set in Elizabethan England and tells the story of Sir John Falstaff, Shakespeare's great comic hero, and of his amorous adventures with the "merry wives of Windsor."

Opera patrons may view Falstaff at performances at 8 p.m. Friday, June 6, Wednesday, June 11, and Tuesday, June 17, or during a matinee at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 14.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling 1-314-961-0644 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays or on performance nights.

"Falstaff is a perfect opera for this company and this theater," Richard Gaddes, general director of Opera Theater, commented.

"Not only is the comedy wonderful in English, but it is Verdi's truest ensemble opera; it requires extraordinary acting because each character is individually developed both dramatically and musically."

"The shape of the stage is very much like the one in the Globe Theater, where Shakespeare's Merry Wives was first performed, and we've solved the problem of Falstaff's complicated, shifting scenes just the way the Globe did, by having the performers change the set themselves," Gaddes said.

Falstaff is being directed by Rhoda Levine, who is making her St. Louis debut this season. She is well known as an opera director for her work at the San Francisco Opera, the Netherlands Opera, the National Opera of Greece and the Festival of Two Worlds Opera in Spoleto, Italy.

City Opera bass-baritone Maurice Brown will sing the title role of Falstaff. Featured with Miss Mills will be Jerry Hadley, Carlos Serrano and Carolyn James.

Miss Mills is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph B. (Lula F.) Mills, 2104 Cottage Ave.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, she received a master of music degree in 1977 from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana, and a bachelor of music degree from the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, in 1975.

Miss Mills previously sang the role of Nanetta with the Houston Grand Opera in 1978 and also sang Zdenka in Arabella with the same company in 1977.

She was awarded a National Opera Institute grant to young singers in January 1978, and won first prize in the MTNA National Collegiate Competition in 1977.

Her professional career also includes performances in Don Pasquale, singing the part of Norina, and in the role of Frasquita in Carmen at the Lake George Opera Festival.

In the Opera Theater of St. Louis' 1979 season, the soprano sang the difficult role of Zerbinetta in Ariadne on Naxos.

In 1978, Miss Mills sang the part of Britomarte in the American premiere of Vicente Martin Y Soler's opera, The Tree of Chastity, also performed by the Opera Theater.

The former Granite Cityan has appeared at the St. Louis Muny Opera and the Kansas City Starlight Theater.

Opera Theater productions are presented at the Loretto-Hilton Theater on the campus of Webster College, St. Louis.

Other operas being offered this season are The Turn of the Screw, Magic Flute and a "double bill," featuring The Seven Deadly Sins and Faust or Fiction.

Information concerning specific dates may be secured by calling the number listed above.

Presswood asked why the rider ran into the fence and was struck in the face by the bicyclist. The assailant was described as about five feet, 10 inches tall, weighed 155 pounds, had brown hair and was about 20 years old.

The four men left the area traveling toward Nameoki Road, police were told.

our own street work instead of letting it out to contractors," Douglas added.

Paul Fisk, alderman of the Third Ward and chairman of the ordinance committee, said he was inclined to think as Douglas did, and that he also believed the money appropriated would go farther if the city was making its own improvements.

Brewer said bids have been called on the $400,000 in street improvements and are to be opened June 9.

Fisk noted that while he thought it was a good idea for the city to make its own street improvements, he had been informed that "we might run into objections by the unions."

Douglas replied, "I think things have come to a pretty pass when the unions tell us we can hire and what work we can do."

Fisk said he also had talked to the street superintendent and others who told him they thought it would be too costly for the city.

Mayor Paul Schuler, in response to a suggestion by Douglas that "we ought to look into it," told the council, "We have looked into this before—on several occasions. We checked into such a plan back in 1973 and several times later. It just isn't feasible. We found it would be too costly. However, I think we should continue to monitor the situation and keep such a possibility in mind."

Douglas cast the only negative vote on a motion by Fisk that the $588,000 appropriation be approved.

Several residents living along Clark Avenue in an area where township sewer installation has been under way complained of the condition of the street and sidewalks, noting that the sewer work was not entirely responsible for the conditions. George Petrunich, a resident on Clark, told the aldermen that "the street was in a deplorable condition even before they started installing sewer lines."

He said the street once was well maintained under an agreement between Granite City and Nameoki Township who shared the cost and work because one side of the street is in the city and the other side is in the township.

"But," he said, "there hasn't been anything done in about 12 years along Clark between Johnson and Maryville roads."

A woman resident also criticized the street department, claiming limb pickups were ignored "for months" and that sidewalks are cracked and broken.

Mayor Schuler, noting that Portell was absent at the council session, asked if there was anyone there to "defend" the street department.

Alderman Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward, moved that the problem be referred to the street and alley committee.

Mayor Schuler, however, said, "I think the best approach to this, rather than referring it to a committee, would be to make a motion instructing the street superintendent (Portell) to put the street and sidewalks in good condition."

Several aldermen suggested that the city should delay action until the sewer installation is completed.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, said the contractor is responsible for restoration of streets after the sewer work is completed.

Bowler, however, withdrew his original motion and made another to the effect that Portell be instructed to repair and improve the area of Clark Avenue involved in the discussion. The motion carried.

their supervisors who knew of the memo used freedom of the press without responsibility.

"The reporter's role is one of the most important aspects of our society and freedom of the press is protected by a Constitutional amendment. However, freedom without responsibility is license."

"You have license of free speech," Carr told the jury, "but you can't yell 'Fire' in a crowded theater. If I exercise a freedom without responsibility, I must pay the price," Carr added.

William Cox, attorney for the Telegraph, and Charles Williamson, attorney for the reporters, said the defense was basically simple. If Melosi and Lhotka believed the allegations in the memo they sent the Justice Department were true when they sent the memo, it was a privileged (private) document for which they could not be sued, he contended.

It is citizens' responsibility to report what they believe is a crime to the proper authorities, Williamson said.

Melosi and Lhotka testified that their information came basically from the late Madison County Sheriff Barney Fraundorf and the late captain of the sheriff's department, Demos Nicholas, "who had always been reliable news sources," according to Williamson.

The reporters were told that Green had a connection with Don Hazel, he added. Melosi and Lhotka checked county records and found that some construction projects started by Hazel had been completed by Green, the jury was told.

They also knew that the money supply in 1968 and 1969 was tight, but Green and a few other builders seemed to be able to get all the money they wanted from Piassa, the jury was told.

"When you have all this, what do you do? You don't go to Jim Green and say, 'Are you part of the Mafia?' You don't ask Degrand (Robert Degrand, former vice-president of Piassa) if there is 'Mafia money in your savings and loan?' You don't print it in the newspaper," Williams told the jury.

He said both reporters had been threatened in various ways before (in news coverage unrelated to the Green case) and Melosi had his life threatened once when he was conducting an investigation into labor racketeering (also unrelated).

$9 million award

Instead of a direct approach, he said, the reporters followed "the duty and obligation of citizens to come forward if they have information on (supposed) criminal activities. They did it in good faith. Thinking the information was true. And they did it with reasonable grounds to think that it was true," the attorney contended.

Williamson also said the jurors could not award punitive damages unless they believed the reporters "acted with actual malice or reckless disregard" knowing that allegations in the memo were not true.

"If you had to be certain that everything you printed would not offend anybody, very little would be printed," he summarized.

Cox said he was personally offended by remarks Carr made during the trial indicating Cox had discussed the case with several of the defense witnesses prior to their testimony.

He said that it is proper for an attorney to discuss a case with his witnesses. He added that if Carr meant to indicate Cox persuaded officials "to concoct a lie, it's an insult not only to me, but it's an insult to your intelligence," Cox told the jury.

Cox disagreed with Carr's tally of the alleged damages. He said of Green's savings of nearly $1 million which were used to secure properties, "We didn't

He said $3,431,000 Carr sought for the loss Green was said to have suffered from the stopping of his building projects was too high since most of that money was borrowed and owed to Piassa.

Carr said Green lost equity of about $1,621,000 by being unable to complete those projects, based upon 70 percent standard loans on projects. Cox contended that figure was too high since testimony had shown that Piassa frequently exceeded 70 percent in its loans to Green, particularly when Green pledged part of his savings account to secure part of the down payment.

Cox also questioned whether Green deserved $1,000,000 for damage to his reputation, asserting the FBI cleared him of suspicion in an organized crime investigation in 1973 or 1974. He also said the memo could not have harmed Green's reputation between 1969 and 1976, asserting that the existence of the memo was "known by Green or others in this area until 1976."

He asked the jury not to award punitive damages, quoting the Bible in saying, "Vengeance is mine, says the Lord." He added, "It is not up to the jury."

In his final rebuttal, Carr countered with another Biblical quote, "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth." He added, "We want compensation of $7,405,000 for Jim Green. Then we want to punish, because punishment is deserved."

"Where they made their mistake was in thinking the statute of limitations had run out on the letter. They apparently did not consult an attorney or they would have found out that the statute of limitations would not run out until one year from the time Green found out about the existence of the letter," Carr explained.

The attorney contended it was "the greed for another slice" that allowed the memo to surface in 1976.

Melosi told Degrand he would tell him what caused Piassa's collapse if Degrand would tell him about the inner workings of Piassa; he then gave Degrand a copy of the memo, which neither Degrand nor Green had ever seen or heard of, Carr told the jury.

"Where they made their mistake was in thinking the statute of limitations had run out on the letter. They apparently did not consult an attorney or they would have found out that the statute of limitations would not run out until one year from the time Green found out about the existence of the letter," Carr explained.

Legal instructions were given to the jury by Circuit Judge Charles Chapman before the jury was excused for deliberations about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. The jurors deliberated one hour before taking a dinner break. They then returned to their deliberations and considered the case another three and a half hours before reaching their decision.

Judge Chapman entered an immediate judgment accepting and formalizing the jury's decision. The attorneys for the Telegraph and the reporters have 30 days in which to file motions for a new trial or appeal the decision and the amount awarded.

Sternberg was described by Starr as an "executive, civic leader and loyal scout."

The national gathering was told, "As a young Boy Scout, Gene H. Sternberg Sr. earned the Life Scout progress award, and it appears that made him a scout for life. Today, he brings his wisdom and dedication to scouting to the deliberations of our National Executive Board."

"You have given much to our movement, as executive board member and president for two years of the Cahokia Mound Council and later as a member of the executive committee of Old Region 7. Since 1972, you have been on the North Central Region Committee and have served as Area 3 vice-president."

"Since 1976, you have been a member of the National Executive Board. The scouting brotherhood was pleased to honor you with the Silver Beaver in 1963, the Silver Antelope in 1967 and the St. George Emblem in 1976."

"As president of G. H. Sternberg and Co., you have had a busy professional life, too. You have also been a national director of the Associated General Contractors of America, president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association Chapter of the AGCA, and a leader in the work of the American Arbitration Association."

"You have also been a community servant as president of Optimist International, a general chairman of the United Fund, and leader in the Salvation Army Tree of Lights. You were the recipient of the Legion of Honor, Order of DeMolay."

"In recognition of your great achievements in scouting and community service, the National Court of Honor takes much pleasure in awarding the Silver Buffalo."

Battery alleged

Jerry G. Warrack, 34, who said he has no permanent address, was charged in a state complaint with battery after he allegedly beat Dale Hendrickson, 2001 Lindell Blvd., during a disturbance at the Sports Tap, 916 N. Dearborn Ave., at 11:30 p.m. Monday.

Witnesses allege Warrack was beating Hendrickson outside the tavern and Hendrickson broke free and ran into the beer garden, where Warrack caught him and beat him again.

Off-duty Granite City Patrolman Mike Murgie broke up the fight and both men left the area, it was reported. Hendrickson later sought treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

Warrack was located when police responded to a disturbance at the Wayside Tavern a short time later. He was released on $102 cash bond at 2:20 a.m. Tuesday.

KIRKPATRICK DAMAGE
Two window panes in the apartment of Peggy Garris, 3403 Kirkpatrick homes, were broken when a soda bottle was hurled through one of them and the other was knocked out by a paint can, it was reported last week. The victim told police a woman had made repeated calls to the apartment challenging a visitor at the Garris apartment to "come out and fight." The windows were broken shortly after the woman had appeared at the apartment, she said.

THIS I BELIEVE

Many people are worried and depressed to a greater degree than their circumstances or condition seems to warrant. And while some are as they are due to physical or emotional causes, a lot of people are held down and back because the Devil has been on their case. For four years past, of my 24 year ministry in the Quad-Cities, I have prayed for many oppressed by the Devil (Acts 10:38) and God has delivered them.

Discussions due on levee dirt removal

The Metro-East Sanitary district plans to schedule a meeting within the next week with officials of SCA Services, Inc., to discuss the removal of 60,000 cubic yards of dirt from the Cahokia Canal levee east of Route 203 between Interstate 70 and Horseshoe Lake.

Russell Robinson of Granite City, president of the sanitary district board of trustees, said arrangements for another meeting are being made after engineers completed a study indicating the extent of the dirt removal which has lowered the levee to grade level along some sections of the levee.

Earlier, board members had estimated that from 100,000 to 150,000 cubic yards of dirt had been removed. The engineering study was submitted to the trustees during a meeting in Granite City Friday afternoon.

Walter "Shang" Greathouse, a Granite City member of the board, said that there may be some addition to the dirt volume because of compaction, and that there likely would be additional costs for landscaping.

The cost of dirt presently ranges from $5 to $7 per cubic yard, Greathouse said, which means a loss to the district of $325,000 based on a minimum cost of $5 per yard. Sanitary district officials have accused SCA Services of removing the dirt to use as cover for the firm's landfill operated in the area. Trustees have contended the dirt was removed without obtaining permission from the district, or letting officials know that the dirt was being removed.

Terri Kaye Theis and Edward Crews are wed

Miss Terri Kaye Theis, a daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Phillip A. Theis, 2336 Zippel Ave., and Edward A. Crews, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Crews, 2933 Dogwood Ave., were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on April 26 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Burning tapers in aisle candelabra and pews marked with white satin ribbons and trailing stephanotis and spring bouquets of carnations, roses, daisies, poppies and forget-me-nots on the double ring service performed at 7 p.m. by the Rev. James Mory.

Robin Teller, an aunt of the bride, sang "Sunrise, Sunset," and The Lord's Prayer accompanied at the organ by Alan Milster.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length white organza gown fashioned in an Empire silhouette. The square neckline was traced with Cluny lace etched with pearls, and was repeated on the bodice forming an over the shoulder lace ruffle.

A band of matching lace encircled the high rise waistline and also created the cuffs of the long full sheer sleeves.

Her slightly full skirt was accented with lace edged tiers that extended into a full sweep chapel train.

A cap of lace and pearls secured her waltz length veil bordered with lace trim and she carried a colonial bouquet of silk white roses, miniature carnations and button mums interspersed with stephanotis with pearl centers and baby's breath tied with lace ribbon streamers.

Maid of honor Peggy Smolch and bridesmaids Sherri Teller, an aunt of the bride, Mary Bury and Rosie Pfuhl were dressed alike in a blue print dresses. Their gowns were designed with open necklines, short open sleeves, blouson bodices enhanced with a self tie and long pleated skirts.

Each attendant wore clusters of spring flowers in their hair and carried fireside baskets filled with silk floral arrangements of carnations, roses, daisies, poppies and forget-me-nots intermingled with baby's breath and festooned with satin and lace streamers.

Tricia Teller and Melissa Teague, the latter of Wappingers Falls, N.Y., both cousins of the bride, served as flower girls. Jason Nemeth was the ringbearer. The flower girls were gown in frocks created by Mrs. Lynn Teague, an aunt of the bride. The full length dresses were fashioned in a pastel blue fabric with fitted bodices, short sleeves and gathered skirts worn with white eyelet pinaforks.

As a special memento of the affair Mrs. Teague embroidered the names of the flower girls, the bride and groom and date of the wedding on the hemline of the white underslip worn by the youngsters.

Attending the groom as best man was Charles King Jr. Groomsmen and ushers included Phillip "Pat" Theis, a brother of the bride, Jimmy Crews, the groom's brother, Doug Crews, Mark Crews, cousins of the groom, and Mike Zarlingo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Theis chose a mauve silesta knit gown featuring an open neckline trimmed with silver beads and sequins, winged sleeves and a V-tiered skirt.

Mrs. Crews was attired in an ice green knit dress embellished with a softly draped bodice and long sleeves.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Crews, who exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ. Formerly Miss Terri Kaye Theis the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip A. Theis, 2336 Zippel Ave.

Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a dinner after the rehearsal at Ravaneli's Restaurant hosted by the groom's parents.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Maryville.

Tracey and Lisa Theis, cousins of the bride, from Fond du Lac, Wis., presided over the guest book and assisted with serving at the reception.

After a wedding trip to Boston and Cape Cod, Mass., the newly married couple is now residing in Granite City.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The bride also attended Belleville Area College and Illinois Business and Technical School. She is employed as a video service representative.

The groom attended Johnson County Community College in Overland Park, Kan., and now works as a customer service representative at Fotomat Corp., St. Louis.

Among the guests attending were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Teller, Granite City, and Mrs. Lida Theis, Fond du Lac, Wis., and grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McClane, Kan., and Mrs. Frank Webb and Mrs. Rudolph Kuenkler, all of Granite City.

Prisoners in new jail

By RICK PEARSON

Prisoners were transferred from the old Madison County Jail to the new jail Tuesday as an emergency measure after portions of the old jail began to crumble. A demolition project occurring next door was blamed.

Major Joseph Knezevich, sheriff of the county, said the department said transfer of 68 prisoners occurred between 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. without incident.

Knezevich said plaster in the old jail began cracking during the demolition of a building next to the 111-year-old jail.

Conditions at the new jail are adequate, he said. The prisoners were scheduled to be transferred to the new jail Tuesday to three counties.

Transfer having been delayed because of a controversy surrounding the type of iron paint used in the new jail.

Laundry facilities at the new jail also have not been broken and Knezevich said laundry and other prisoner services which cannot be accomplished at the new jail are being done at the old jail.

Henry Gabriel, architect for the new jail, said the new facility is ready to handle the prisoners despite problems with certain services.

"It's like any new building," Knezevich said. "There are some odds and ends that have to be worked out."

He said transfer of the sheriff's department to the new facility was made before the prisoner transfer, so that deputies and jailers could become familiar with the mechanical operation of the new jail.

"The only reason why the prisoners couldn't have been moved to the new jail,"

Gabriel said. "There would have been less confusion if we moved them in later than now, but the (new) jail is ready for them."

Gabriel said contractors may be able to complete further work on the new jail at a later date if the county is able to find an alternative place to house prisoners.

Who 'volunteered' us as chemical guinea pigs in '53?

An example of why there needs to be constant effort to limit disclosure of secrecy is the latest disclosure about Army chemical testing over metropolitan areas. Apparently there were 35 outdoor chemical warfare tests in this area in April, May and June 1953, but nobody's permission was sought and the whole episode was kept under wraps until now.

At least theoretically, there were to be tests at Granite City Steel, Socoy-Vacuum in East St. Louis and Monsanto Co. in St. Louis, federal records say. But nobody at Granite City Steel has any recollection of it, and there is no evidence in Washington that those locations were utilized.

Records on Army Chemical Corps tests show no adverse effects in the St. Louis metropolitan area. The opposite situation allegedly existed in San Francisco, where a man's death is linked by some to federal testing.

Area industrial and health officials report no knowledge of the tests. But U.S. documents say they were residential, commercial and manufacturing areas and in the St. Louis downtown district. The 35 tests are said to have included 20 sprayings in residential areas, 13 among tall downtown buildings in St. Louis and two in unidentified five-square-mile areas.

A fluorescent tracer material, a mixture of zinc cadmium sulfide, is said to have been sprayed into the air with several chemical agents from two downtown rooftops and in Forest Park. Its dispersion was measured to study offensive capabilities and to gauge the vulnerability of cities to chemical warfare.

All of which sounds like it might have some merit, but certainly not nearly enough to warrant exposing millions of people who had not volunteered to be guinea pigs.

Lame-brained proposals like this continue to develop in Washington. And even supposedly well-planned projects like the desert-area atomic tests were later found to have endangered the health of many soldiers.

Non-voluntary disclosure of chemical tests in generation after they are conducted simply isn't good enough.

Ways need to be found of alerting citizens before they are placed in jeopardy; "military security requirements" obviously are not the reason for such secrecy, but rather the excuse for it.

Plans announced for new River Fest concert season

The good news today is that the Mississippi River Festival summer concert series on the SUE campus will continue in 1980. The bad news is that only a limited schedule has been completed so far, and there are rumblings of discontent, with a possible effort by the university to end its contract with the Nederlander organization after this summer.

The 12th MRF season is to open June 22 with an appearance by the Allman Brothers Band. Special guest attraction will be Hank Williams Jr.

Waylon Jennings is to entertain June 29, the Charlie Daniels Band July 5, and Kenny Rogers with special guests Firefall July 8. No doubt additional performers will be scheduled for July and August. The university is said to be hopeful of a wider variety in the types of programs, and also is said to be concerned about the absence of certain physical improvements that had been contemplated at the concert site.

The River Festival tent no longer exists, and perhaps the fact that the concerts are today at the mercy of the weather is a big reason for some of the scheduling problems; either the performer or the sponsor must gamble financially that Mother Nature won't wipe out most of the box office receipts.

Nevertheless, such matters have been dealt with in the past, with varying degrees of success, and hope springs from the prospect of consecutive new ideas and methods will emerge.

Girl, 15 abducted

A 15-year-old Mitchell girl told police that she was abducted by a driver from the parking lot of the Corner Liquor Store, 2526 Namecki Road, at 11:30 p.m. Monday and she was released on Interstate 270 at Route 157, near Edwardsville, a short time later.

The girl, who resides on University Drive in Mitchell, said she left a friend's apartment at Kirkpatrick Homes and walked to the liquor store, where she purchased some food items.

When she walked from the store, a car stopped and the driver asked her if she needed a ride. She refused, but he grabbed her by her arm and ordered her to get in the car, a tan or beige late model two-door car, she told authorities.

She got in the passenger seat and the man drove to a parking lot and got out the driver's seat and held her arm, to keep her from unlocking the passenger door, police were told.

He then drove her north on Namecki Road. At one point he told her he was from Vandalia, but was staying in Edwardsville. While they were riding, he asked her personal questions, which she refused to answer, she said.

Dr. Koch seeks GOP nod to run for coroner job

Dr. Felicia Koch, 72, a Granite City physician on the medical staff of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, probably will be the Republican candidate for coroner, according to County GOP Chairman Dr. Edward Ragsdale.

Dr. Koch, who told the Press-Record this morning that her candidacy is "fairly tentative, but not sewed yet," is expected to be approved as the party's candidate by Republican precinct committeemen when they meet in July.

She will oppose incumbent Coroner Dallas Burke of Adams, a mortician, in the general election, this November.

She has been a member of the boards of the United Way, Chamber of Commerce and Catholic Charities.

Dr. Koch has six children.

2 sentenced

Charles W. Hahne, 28, of 1631 Second St., Madison, and David W. Hall, 18, of 2437 Edison Ave., have been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve 15 years in prison for allegedly breaking a 95-year-old man's fingers while they were robbing him in his home.

Phillip Morrison of the 4800 block of Maryville Road, who was broken into on his home Jan. 24 and struck him on the head. They twisted his fingers while demanding the money, which he kept in his money in the house and broke three fingers.

They left after taking $4 cash and a shotgun from Morrison's home, it was reported. That shotgun later was shortened, with the barrel and stock sawed off, and was used in an armed robbery at a Collinsville store.

Branch said he dove under Smith's auto when the gunfire started.

Branch was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where Smith was treated and released. Branch declined treatment. The driver of the Cadillac was described as about 40 to 50 years old, about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, having glasses and a mustache.

Venice man shot in foot

Larry Smith, 28, of 623 Mercedosa Ave., Venice, suffered a bullet wound through his left foot when he struggled with another man who had a gun on Route 203 near the entrance to Eagle Park Acres about 2:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Smith said he and Calvin Branch, 33, of 34 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, were in Lee Park in Venice when Smith saw his former wife in a Cadillac and he approached her and demanded a set of his keys and a briefcase.

He alleged the driver of the Cadillac backed his auto rapidly into Smith's car and then left the area. Smith and Branch went into the Venice police station nearby for aid in identifying the driver. They then went to St. Louis to look for him, but were unable to find him or the car, Smith said. They were returning on Route 203 when they saw the Cadillac on the highway. The driver of the Cadillac apparently saw Smith's car and pulled the driver out of the car, the former Moto service station by the entrance to Eagle Park Acres.

Smith approached the man and accused him of damaging Smith's auto, it was reported. It was alleged the driver of the Cadillac then struck Smith with a fist, got out a pistol and fired about six shots. One struck Smith's foot.

Branch said he dove under Smith's auto when the gunfire started.

Branch was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where Smith was treated and released. Branch declined treatment. The driver of the Cadillac was described as about 40 to 50 years old, about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, having glasses and a mustache.

"While this roof is more expensive than the spray foam roof or the four-ply roof, it does carry a ten-year guarantee as compared with the five years and two years," Landman noted.

"But the bid recommendations are a lesser total cost by awarding the spray foam roof on Prather and the single play on Lake, rather than the reverse."

"Judge Chapman knew more about the law in this case than I did. He read and studied the law before the call of duty, and I consider him a tremendously outstanding judge."

We lived with this case and the men who were accused. But when we came to trial, he knew more about the law than the lawyers," Carr concluded.

Cox had less to say, but questioned whether the jury studied all of the documents given to it for consideration. It was not the result we expected. There were 80 exhibits we had to look at and the jury was out less than five hours.

"We feel we were right when we told of the complex case.

Nonn's desk was cleared of all cases except the apparent arson after he was called out to the May 14 fire, working throughout the night gathering clues.

Nonn said his questioning of persons present at the scene the night of the fire and his questioning of Batey developed an idea which grew to the point where the state's attorney's office authorized issuance of felony warrants for the two men.

Additional arrests are considered a possibility.

"Money is available from the surplus of our Bond and Interest Fund. This roof work was included in our high priority items for use of the surplus funds. And the school roofs were given a high priority by the school district's Citizens Advisory Committee."

Partney said he has received adverse reports about spray foam roofing, especially when there are ponds of moisture during the application.

Landman cited uncertainties, advantages and disadvantages associated with all of the approaches.

Early board action may be sought, since it is hoped to have roof projects completed during the summer months. The formal board meeting schedule was altered to include June 24 and July 15. The June 17 and July 1 meetings were eliminated, but special meetings may be called.

the jury that the memo was a privileged communication, for which we cannot be sued. That is the law, and I believe we should prevail in the appellate court," Cox predicted.

John Sobel, a Granite City businessman who also is suing the Telegraph newspaper for mentioning him in its memo forwarded to the FBI, told the Press-Record Wednesday he expected that his suit will come to trial next.

Sobel said he feels he suffered severe and unjustified damage due to the memo. He added that this week's verdict bars out his allegation that he was unfairly and inaccurately described.

"We do not have any spare housing and there is no way we could keep refugees here, since we are lacking in food, security, toilets and other facilities which would be needed," the commander said.

Refugee rumor denied

There is "absolutely" no truth to rumors that some Cuban refugees would be brought to the Granite City Army Installation, Major John Browne, base commander, told the Press-Record Tuesday.

Madison Junior Service installs

Mrs. Fannie Fisk was installed as president of the Madison Junior Service Club during the 56th annual installation of club officers held last week in the private dining room at Bill Burr's Cafeteria.

The dinner tables were attractively appointed with flowers and lighted tapers. Fifty-three members and guests attended.

State has helped 100,000 handicapped in eight years

The state has helped rehabilitate almost 100,000 handicapped Illinoisans and has doubled its spending to aid the disabled since fiscal year 1971, State Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported this week.

Burris said the new cabinet-level Department of Rehabilitation Services — formerly the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation — is expanding and broadening its approach beyond just employment goals to help more and younger handicapped Illinoisans to be self-sufficient.

The comptroller's latest monthly fiscal report takes a detailed look at the newly expanded Department of Rehabilitation Services, its greatly-changed status and mission, and its funding.

At the same time, the report profiles the state's "solid" fiscal position as the end of the fiscal year nears on June 30, but sees a threat of still-higher unemployment in Illinois ahead.

Here are some of the findings of the special Rehabilitation Services report:

—99,743 handicapped Illinoisans completed agency rehabilitation programs and returned to useful lives in the last nine years.

—More than $23 million was spent by the agency in FY 1979 for four major types of services to the disabled: 27.7 percent for diagnosis or evaluation, 24.6 percent for restoration, 29.7 percent for training, and 16.5 percent for direct support payments.

—Since July 1979, the new code department received control from the Department of Children and Family Services, the Illinois School for the Deaf, the School for the Visually Impaired, the Children's Hospital School, and the Visually Handicapped Institute to channel children into the rehabilitation process at an earlier age. The impact upon the department was 6,000 more clients, with 700 more staff positions and a $15.5 million budget increase.

—A key function of the Rehabilitation department is to determine an applicant's eligibility for federal assistance. Between FY 1971 and 1979, the number of cases soared 173.7 percent, or 83,822 cases.

—State spending for rehabilitation more than doubled from $23.9 million in 1971 to $54.7 million in FY 1979, an increase of $30.8 million or 128.9 percent.

—Few Illinoisans are aware that uncashed parimutuel tickets are the only source of revenue into the Veterans Rehabilitation Fund.

As the end of the current fiscal year draws near, it is clear that FY 1980 will go down in the books as a record-setter. At the end of 10 months, revenues are $100 million higher than expenditures.

The month-end balances in the general funds topped the half-billion dollar mark in seven of the past 10 months. Prior to this fiscal year, that happened only in two other months. Records would have been set even if the new corporate personal property replacement tax transactions were factored out of the month-end balances.

Another $15 million has accumulated in debt service and special funds.

Total revenues from all sources to the general funds in the last 10 months were $710 million higher, up 12.3 percent from the same period a year earlier. Revenues from state sources are up, and federal sources are down.

Forecasters expect still further unemployment ahead. That factor combined with some easing of inflation indicates the recession may be sharper and briefer than expected, Burris said.

A quick-scan chart on agency-by-agency spending shows major yearly increases for these departments: Aging (up 242.3 percent), Law Enforcement (up 236.5 percent), Rehabilitation Services (up 237.9 percent) and Transportation (up 274.9 percent).

BUSINESS WORKSHOP. Julie Schrenk (left) and Taina Kilponen will attend a week-long program this month at St. Louis University.

Rabies clinic at GC shelter June 14

A rabies clinic will be held from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, June 14, at the Granite City Humane Shelter.

The shelter is located on Highway 3, about one-quarter of a mile south of the A. O. Smith plant.

Rabies shots will be $5 each and distemper booster shots $7 each.

Granite City Humane Officer Andy Chiappa reminds residents that rabies inoculations are required by state and city statutes.

Also mandatory is the purchase of a city dog license, costing $1 for males and $2 for females.

"Failure to inoculate your pet against rabies will result in a substantial impoundment fee," Chiappa stated.

The humane officer noted with the summer months approaching and children out of school, the number of bite cases in the city is expected to increase substantially.

"This happens every summer," Chiappa said. To protect youngsters and pets, owners should take advantage of the June 14 clinic to get their animals inoculated and also should comply with the leash law, he stressed.

Two chosen for workshop

Two North High girls, Taina Kilponen and Julie Schrenk, have been chosen to attend a week-long workshop to acquaint high school senior girls with careers in business and administration.

The program will be held from June 16 through June 21 on the campus of St. Louis University. Students will attend sessions from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

It is being sponsored by the School of Business and Administration of St. Louis University in conjunction with the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. Students selected are in the top 10 percent of their class, are involved in extracurricular activities, and have leadership potential.

Theft charged

A misdemeanor charge of theft was filed late Friday afternoon against John W. Mason, 42, of St. Louis after security officers at the Granite City Steel plant alleged Mason was seen putting an eight-inch circular saw into his truck. Mason was stopped at the 19th Street plant gate and was detained by security officers who turned him over to police. It was reported the saw was the property of the Kroeger Erecting Co., and was valued at $100.

CASH, GUNS STOLEN

About $1,000 in cash, a 12-gauge shotgun and a .38 caliber revolver were stolen during a burglary at the home of Wilma Rushing, 2428 Madison Ave., last week. Entry was gained by prying a screen from a window and crawling through the window. The house was ransacked and eggs from the refrigerator were thrown on the walls in every room, police were told.

12 in 'John Wayne' class

Mark S. Bowles, J. Shane Cole, Matthew J. Cotter, Joseph W. Dickie, Greg A. Gibson, Michael J. Hargrave, Mike W. Hewlett, Scott A. Hewlett, John C. Livesay, Matthew J. Miller, Danny W. Pritchard and Kevin M. Schatz received their initiatory and DeMolay degrees at the Masonic Temple during a special meeting last week as members of the "John Wayne" memorial class.

Each member will receive a special commemorative certificate bearing a portrait of "The Duke." The late John Wayne was a Senior DeMolay and the International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay, designated May, 1980, to honor its member throughout the world.

Randy Steele, master councilor of Edwardsville Chapter, Order of DeMolay, gave the "DeMolay Flower Talk" to the new DeMolays of James Stuart Chapter following the degrees.

The senior line officers with Geoff Wofford as master councilor conferred the initiatory degree. The cast for the DeMolay degree was Steven W. Smith, orator; Hiram A. Ables, DeMolay; David Ledbetter, master inquisitor; David Harley, senior inquisitor; Anthony Teisford, junior inquisitor; Dennis Worthen, Guy of Avergne; Geoff Wofford, Hughe de Peralde; Shaun Roe, Godfrey de Gonville; Gerald Singleton Jr., Marshal of Commission; Pat Gibbons and Robbie Favier, marshal's guards; Randy Miller, David Medley, Brad Busch and Jimmy Stuart, inquisitor escorts.

Brad Lane, senior guard, Kris Tanase, Rod Jackson, Fred Trebing and Neal Mize, soldiers; Robert Heblthwaite Jr., lord constable; Darren Miller, French captain and Donald Payne and Darren Davis, French soldiers.

E. Gene Ross, most worshipful senior grand warden of Ancient Free and Accepted Mason of the State of Illinois, and Howard Klaus, district 16 deputy for Illinois DeMolay were introduced and spoke briefly.

The Master Councilor announced that the chapter will compete in the district 16 softball tourney to be held Sunday afternoon, June 8, at Van Prader Park, E. Alton. Following the special meeting the Mother's Club served refreshments.

Reserve shelters for park picnics

Church groups, clubs and families planning picnics in Wilson Park and wishing to use a shelter facility are asked to make reservations in advance.

No charge is made for the reservation service, but only residents of the Granite City Park District may reserve the shelters.

Permits may be obtained at the Wilson Park office. Reservations are not accepted for July 4 and Labor Day.

It was noted that facilities at various park district centers may be rented by local organizations when not being used in regular programming, officers said. Arrangements can be made by calling the Wilson Park office at 877-3059.

BATTERY ALLEGED

Harry W. Painter was charged with battery at 4:15 a.m. Saturday following a disturbance at the Jack in the Box Restaurant. The complaint was signed by Rick Corbett, Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, who said Painter struck him during an argument as to who was first in line at the restaurant drive-in.

Woman has nearly 200 horse race wins

By JOHN SCULLY
There is often an attitude of clannishness at race tracks around the country.

This feeling of protectiveness towards one's own — in this case the "family" of regulars associated with the track — is often difficult to penetrate, by even talented newcomers.

It can be especially difficult if, besides being a newcomer, you also happen to be a woman, and a jockey.

KIM DeLAURA

This sheltering attitude may be the reason for a lack of mounts for one of the newest jockeys at Fairmount Park, Kim DeLaura.

Kim is a well established rider in northern Kentucky and in Ohio. She has nearly 200 wins to her credit.

The 22-year-old developed an interest in show horses and went on to breaking yearlings while still in high school.

After galloping horses for several years, she decided to become a jockey and had her first winning race at Latonia in 1977 aboard a veteran of Fairmount Park, Sir Dreamalot.

Her first chances to prove herself were given by Trainers Bill Price, Lee Borgemken and Vernon "Shorty" Herman. She came through for them, being the leading apprentice for 1977 at a double meet at River Downs and the fall meeting at Beulah Park.

At Beulah that same year, she lost the overall jockey title to Mike Ewing on the final day of the season.

I had the pleasure of watching Kim ride at River Downs a few years ago. In my mind, she was the best rider at the track, in competition with such jockeys as Bernie Layton, Perry Outts, Mike Ewing, Gil Milord and Tony Costa.

When I expressed this opinion to pressbox regulars, they replied with a "show me" attitude.

By the end of the meet, however, after Kim had ridden a steady pace of winners and shown a talent for using the horse to its best, even the pressbox doubting Thomases had to admit that this girl can ride.

Coming to Fairmount Park this spring, she was victorious on the first mount, Diamond Jet.

With this auspicious beginning, and the amount of running she has gotten from the mounts she's had, including being photographed out aboard Prince Ben at 30-1, one would think she would be in much demand.

If she's given the chance, it's my bet that trackers will be saying, "This girl can ride!"

2nd-hand smoke can affect lungs

(Illinois Lung Association)
New research with both healthy adults and children shows that the lung function of nonsmokers is affected by others' tobacco smoke.

Two carefully controlled, major studies — one on children whose parents smoked at home, the other on nonsmokers exposed to smokers at work — have demonstrated that the small airways in the lungs of nonsmokers are affected adversely by tobacco smoke in the environment.

According to the American Lung Association, it is possible, though not yet proven, that the changes that occur in nonsmokers exposed to a smoky environment for long periods may improve when the smoke is removed.

However, it is also possible that the changes may lead to further lung disease. More research is required, the ALA says. What is clear is that lungs to not function normally when forced to breathe smoky air.

During the last few years, says the association, ways have been pinpointed to determine changes in the small airways. What is significant is the rate at which the person forcibly exhales.

Inhalation is not usually a problem, not even for those with advanced lung disease. But to exhale efficiently, the lungs must be healthy and elastic.

When the person forcibly inhales a deep breath, an instrument called a spirometer measures exactly how fast and how much air is forcibly expelled.

Disturbances in the smallest airways are measured at precise points during the exhalation — during the middle half, for example, and at one later point in the exhalation.

Miss Groff earns degree

Miss Janet Y. Groff, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. M.A. Groff of Albany, Ore., formerly of Granite City, has graduated from the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston.

She was one of 193 students from the School of Medicine to receive a degree. Guest speaker for the commencement exercises was Mrs. Lyndon B. "Lady Bird" Johnson, widow of the late President.

Miss Groff graduated from Granite City High School in 1972 and attended Evangel College for one year. She received a bachelor of arts degree from Southern University at Edwardsville in 1975.

While at Galveston, she was a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Mu Delta Honorary Medical Service Society, the Phi Rho Sigma Medical Fraternity and the American Medical Women's Association.

Miss Groff will go to the University of Missouri at Columbia for her residency.

Modica tabbed to replace Champion at South

Press-Record Sports

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, June 5, 1980—21

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It's been a long wait for John Modica. But it all paid off for him here Tuesday night when he was named by the Granite City Board of Education to succeed Conrad "Babe" Champion as head baseball coach at Granite City South.

Modica, who has been an assistant baseball coach at South for the past 14 years, was one of three assistants to Champion who were being considered for the top spot. The other two were Greg Patton and Jerry McKeon. They will be two of Modica's assistants next season. A third will be selected later.

Modica, 39, is a native of Chicago. He and his wife Mary have two daughters, Janine, 15 and Nancy, 11. He came to Granite City in 1964 upon the request of then-assistant baseball coach Champion. "I played on the team at the University of Illinois a couple years," said Modica. "Babe came up and asked if I'd come down to Granite City. My first couple of years here, I didn't do any coaching. Then I volunteered a couple years before I got an assistant job." Modica, 39, said he wasn't doing cartwheels about getting the new job. "I looked at it from the standpoint that it would be great if I got it, but it wouldn't be the end of the world if I didn't." Seven years ago when Champion was named head coach, Modica had applied. "I was pretty disappointed," he said. "But the past seven years with Babe have just been super." However, Modica did tell interviewers for the job that if he did not get the job, he wouldn't remain as an assistant. "(South Principal) Jim Dumont asked me if I'd stay on as an assistant if I didn't get it," said Modica. "I told him, 'No. I just don't think I should be doing that anymore.'"

Modica has the unenviable task of inheriting a team that put together a 12-22 won-lost record the past season. "There's some work to be done," he said. "But we did a lot of work this year. We lack some talent at certain areas, but we'll get there. Most of

Cripps strikes out 14

Batey steals home, paces Tri-City to win

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Kevin Cripps had wrapped a blue warm-up jacket around his right arm even though the night was warm. As he walked off the field headed for the gate, his coach, Eldon Warfield, called over, "Hey, all you pitchers. Help out with the mound and the equipment. Except you, Kevin."

Cripps had earned the special treatment. Minutes before, he had struck out three consecutive East Alton batters, retiring the side and ending the game between his Tri-City team and East Alton.

In the opening game of the American Legion season, Tri-City had beaten East Alton 1-0. And Cripps had allowed only two hits while striking out 14 batters. Warfield was downright defiant as he considered his pitcher and his team. "Everyone was saying we had good hitting but no pitching, but this team proved that wrong. We're going to surprise some people. It was a surprise to many that Tri-City was even able to field a team, what with problems locating uniforms and the money necessary for an entry fee. Most of those problems were resolved by Warfield himself, and the first-year manager is still working to get the team running smoothly.

"I really didn't see much of the game, to tell you the truth," Warfield said. "I was too busy running around trying to get things done. That just shows you what kind of team we've got. They went out and did the job." The game Warfield missed was an excellent one. Good defensive play, superb pitching by both teams. And just enough offense — at least as far as Tri-City was concerned.

It was the fourth inning before either team hit safely. But in the fourth, each team touched the opposing pitcher for hits. In the top half of the inning East Alton's Larry Burns sent a grounder to the right side of second base that just did elude second baseman Bob Stegmeier. By that time, Cripps had already struck out seven batters, and he collected his eighth against the next East Alton batter, then retired the side on a grounder to the first baseman.

The stranded runner was one of five base runners allowed by Cripps. In the bottom of the fourth Tri-City also collected its first hit. Until then East Alton pitcher John Streper was, if not as spectacular as Cripps, was as effective. He had allowed only one runner before Bob Batey stepped up to the plate and lined a double to center.

Tri-City's next batter, Rich Cope, drew a base on balls, and Batey went to third on Bob Ford's fly to right field. It was first-and-third with one out, and Warfield decided to gamble. Cope broke for second, attempting to steal. The throw from East Alton catcher Tim Carter cut down Cope easily, but in the process Batey streaked home with the only run of the game.

BACK IN TIME. Tri-City's Bob Stegmeier (right) gets back safely to first base Tuesday night during a pick-off attempt by East Alton's pitcher. Tri-City, behind a strong pitching performance by Kevin Cripps and the hitting of Bob Batey defeated East Alton 1-0.

Glen Carbon even

NASHVILLE — Glen Carbon's American Legion baseball team upped its record to 1-1 on the season here Wednesday night with a 7-3 win over Nashville in District 22 play. The win comes on the heels of a 10-2 loss suffered by Glen Carbon Tuesday night at Highland.

Against Nashville, most of the damage was done by Glen Carbon in the second inning. And it all came with two men out.

After two strikeouts leading off the inning, Glen Carbon's Ed Burns got things started with a single. He was driven home when Joe Failoni doubled into left centerfield. After catcher Brian Patterson walked, his brother Dan Patterson doubled, scoring Failoni. Shortstop Mike Robertson was the next batter up and he stroked a single that scored both Brian and Dan Patterson. Rich Buer singled, scoring Robertson who had advanced to second.

Glen Carbon got two insurance runs in the top of the seventh inning with back-to-back homers. With one out, Burns smashed a home run deep over the leftfield fence. Ron Pinkston was next up. He drilled a homer over the rightfield fence to make the score 7-2. Nashville scored one run in the bottom of the seventh.

Kahoks win sectional

By RICK WELLS
for the Press-Record
Bellefonte's big guns were pointing north toward Springfield, Or., perhaps, they just weren't loaded. In any case, the Kahoks' bats weren't what they've been through most of the season. But they were enough. The Kahoks settled behind a three-hit shutout performance by junior right-hander Jeff McDaniel to beat Effingham 6-0, clinching the Belleville West Class 2A Sectional title and earning their first bid to the IHSAA State Baseball Tournament since 1949 here Monday. Collinsville managed just six hits off Flaming Heart pitcher Brian Westfall. Unfortunately for Westfall, the Kahoks worked those six hits in with four Effingham errors to score five unearned runs. "Well, they helped us out a lot," Collinsville coach Russ Keiser said after the triumph. "Westfall was better than what he probably looked from the stands. I stood behind there and he was catching the outside corner." An air of uneasiness surrounded Kahok fans Monday. They had gotten used to blowouts like the 11-0 win Saturday over Carbondale in the first round of the sectional. The fact that Collinsville wasn't hitting Monday had many disturbed. Westfall set the Kahoks down easily in the first inning with the help of a double play to wipe out Todd Miller's lead-off single. But the second inning was a different story. Mike Hefflin led off with a sharp grounder to third-baseman Curt Valenti. Valenti lost his balance and almost sat on the ball as it passed through his legs, and Hefflin reached safely to first. Randy McEwen followed with a single, and Keith Throm sacrificed the runners to second and third with a bunt. Vince Plantz, who is averaging around the .425 mark, singled home Collinsville's first run. That's when the fun started. Scott Carson hit a high-bouncer to (you-know-who) Valenti. Valenti fielded the ball, but in his hurry to throw Carson out ended up throwing the ball out — out of the reach of the first-baseman and almost out of the park. Two runs came around to score and Carson ended up at third base before all the commotion was over. There was yet more to the comedy of errors. Westfall made the unthinkable mistake of walking the No. 9 batter (McDaniel), who stole second with no play — no one was covering. After Miller popped to short-center, designated hitter Mark Campbell drew a walk. There's more. Wilson grounded to shortstop Mitch Arnold, who booted the ball, allowing Carson to score.

The inning finally ended on the same play when McDaniel was thrown out at home trying to score. But the damage was already done. Four runs on two hits. Like a sharp blow to the midsection the second inning seemed to take the wind right out of Effingham, and that was all the edge McDaniel needed. McDaniel set down the Hearts in order in the second, third and fourth innings before giving up a lead-off single to Arnold in the fifth. A grounder to third and two excellent plays by McEwen behind the plate on pop-fouls got the Kahoks out of trouble before it could ever start. In the top of the sixth inning Throm led off with a single, stole second and went to third on a fly to right. Again mistakes plagued Effingham as Westfall threw a wild pitch that allowed Throm to score easily. The only flicker of offense Effingham could muster was snuffed out in the sixth inning. With nobody out and runners on first and second, Valenti (who else?) grounded to Carson at short. Carson flipped to Miller for one out, but Miller threw high to Wilson at first. The 6-5 Wilson jumped to save the ball and came tumbling down after Valenti had already crossed the bag. But lead runner Dave Gilbert rounded third base a little too far and Wilson got to him, fired across the field and nailed Gilbert as he dove back into third. Three pitches later Valenti tried to

HE'S SAFE! Collinsville's Todd Miller slides into home Monday with one of the Kahoks' six runs as the Effingham catcher goes for the ball. Collinsville's downed the Flaming Hearts 6-0 and will advance to the State 2A Finals, which began this morning in Springfield.

C'ville to face Steelers' old foe

SPRINGFIELD — Collinsville's Kahoks will face a team all too familiar to Granite City: the Effingham Steelers and their coach Bob Stegmeier Thursday in the quarterfinals of the State Class 2A Baseball Tournament in Springfield's Lamphier Park. Oak Forest's Bengals, who met and defeated North last year in the 2A quarterfinals in Peoria, will tangle with the Kahoks at 2 p.m. Oak Forest lost in the semifinals of last season's tourney and has most of that team returning, including its ace on the mound, Tony Bartolomucci.

Bartolomucci, who possesses one of the most blazing fastballs in the state, will face the Kahoks in the quarterfinals. "He's our ace," said Oak Forest coach Andy Scenna. "We'll use him as long as we can." Last year as a junior, Bartolomucci had two no-hitters, three one-hitters, and a two-hitter and an ERA under one. He'll be opposed by Collinsville's Mark Campbell, who is 12-0 this season and has won 19 consecutive games. Oak Forest advanced by beating Thorridge 6-1 in the Burbank-Reavis Sectional. — PETE HAYES

Edwardsville broke on top in the fourth inning. Third baseman Bob Manville and catcher Phil Conreux smacked back-to-back doubles. Tim Milner singled and the Tigers had themselves a 2-0 lead. In the fifth, Edwardsville's Greg Steiner walked, went to second and third on bunts by Dan Allaria and McManus. He scored on a wild pitch by Normal starter Gary Frey. It was then that Normal bled in John Peptow in relief. But it didn't help. McManus drove in two more runs for the Tigers in the sixth when he singled with the bases loaded. John Wood had singled, Steiner walked and Allaria reached on an infield hit. Scheibal (8-3) picked up his fifth straight victory. Included in that string was Edwardsville's victory over Granite North in the regional final. Edwardsville was to have played Chicago Vocational at 4 p.m. Thursday in the day's final quarterfinal round game. At 2 p.m. Collinsville was to have played Oak Forest.

Edwardsville advances too

SPRINGFIELD — After spending some time in Springfield, Edwardsville coach Bill Funkhouser probably felt like his team deserved to stay on a couple more days for the Class 2A state finals. Funkhouser got his wish. Edwardsville defeated Normal Community High here Tuesday, 5-0 in the rain-delayed championship game of the Springfield Class 2A Sectional. The game was originally scheduled to be played Monday, but because of rain, was delayed until Tuesday and moved from a high school field to Lamphier Park, where the Class 1A Finals were being played and where the 2A Finals began this morning (Thursday) at 9 o'clock. The victory gave Edwardsville (25-8) its first berth to the State Finals since 1963. Last season, the area representative at the Finals was Granite City North. But Edwardsville took care of North in the championship game of the Granite City South Regional. Against Normal (which was the same team North defeated for the sectional title last year), Edwardsville pitchers Jim Scheibal and Vince Broderick combined for the shutout. Scheibal went the first 6 1/3 innings. After he tired, Broderick came in and finished up. The depth of Edwardsville's pitching staff was evident. Scheibal allowed five hits in the six inning, walked six and struck out 10. Broderick allowed just one more hit. McManus drove in two steal second but was thrown out by McEwen to end the inning.

Collinsville picked up one more insurance run in the top of the seventh. Miller led off with a single and stole second. When Campbell flied to right, Miller held up, but the throw back in went sailing to the Effingham bench and Miller took third. Wilson drove him in with a sacrifice fly.

McDaniel set down the Flaming Hearts in order in the seventh and personally put away the game by taking a pop-up by Jim Shadown, before being mobbed by his teammates.

Steamers' ace at soccer camp

GRANITE CITY — Carl Rose, star player for the St. Louis Steamers of the Major Indoor Soccer League, will be one of the featured instructors this summer at a soccer camp, being sponsored by Granite City High School South coach Gene Baker.
The camp will run from June 23 through 27 and will be at South High School in Granite City.
The other members of the staff will include college players from Southern Illinois University, St. Louis University, Indiana University and others. Many

As Keene thought back he felt fortunate coming away with his first sectional title as coach of the Kahoks. "We've played good defense throughout the year. But they had a few baserunning mistakes that helped us," he said.

"It's a funny game," he said of the Kahoks' hitting, or lack thereof. "Sometimes you do. Sometimes you don't."

Monday was a "don't." But Collinsville played well enough to earn its first shot at a state baseball title since the Kahoks lost in the finals in 1949. Collinsville's only state baseball title came in 1941.

"I'll say this. The kids will do things the way they're supposed to be done or they won't play. That's the way Babe did it and that's the way it's still going to be."

"In the interview, I was asked if I'd do anything different from the way Babe had done things. I sat there a minute and then said no. I wasn't that I was trying to evade the question and it's not that I'm trying to copy Babe. It's just that he Players and fans shouldn't look for too much of a change in the way Modica handles his team from the way Champion did. "I consider myself a tough disciplinarian," he said. "Kids have to have a certain amount of self-discipline, too. That was part of our problem this year. Not enough kids had it."

"There are still dugouts, more fencing and a lot more to be done."

Did the fact that Modica is not a native of Granite City make things hard on him when he got here? "Well, most of the people around here grew up together," he said. "It's never easy when you come in as a stranger. But we've adjusted. After 10 years, I consider myself a Granite Cityan now."

Under Champion, the baseball program and facilities at South have greatly improved. The addition of lights to the already manicured diamond on Fehling Road was a feather in his cap. "We've got to keep the facility in good shape and improve on it," said Modica.

"There are still dugouts, more fencing and a lot more to be done."

Being good parent rated higher than sexual allure

His macho look, her curves and come-hither-air may be overrated when it comes to qualities we say we admire most. Rather, most adult Americans will tell you that being a good parent outranks being sexy, says the American Council of Life Insurance.

According to a new Council public attitude survey, being a good parent, spending time with your children, and being loving are at the top of desirable personal qualities for both men and women. All were rated "very important" by more than 80 percent of those surveyed.

For a man, adding being a good provider.

At the same time, sexual attractiveness was ranked much lower for both sexes, being considered "very important" for men by 22 percent of those surveyed, and for women by 33 percent. The Council noted, too, that some traditional sexual stereotypes showed up in response to the nationwide survey.

Comparatively, it was more important for a man to be physically strong and handy around the house than it was for a woman.

At the same time, there was a drop from earlier studies in importance of some other typically macho characteristics.

The following qualities were not considered as important for men as they were a decade ago: maintaining self respect at all times confidence when making important decisions, keeping feelings under control, and willingness to risk one's life.

Recycling aluminum can provide cash for summer vacations and clean up the recyclers' home community by reducing litter, in the opinion of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co., which pays 23 cents per pound.

The Reynolds Metals Co. subsidiary pays the public for all-aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, aluminum foil, frozen food and dinner trays, and dip, pudding and meat containers.

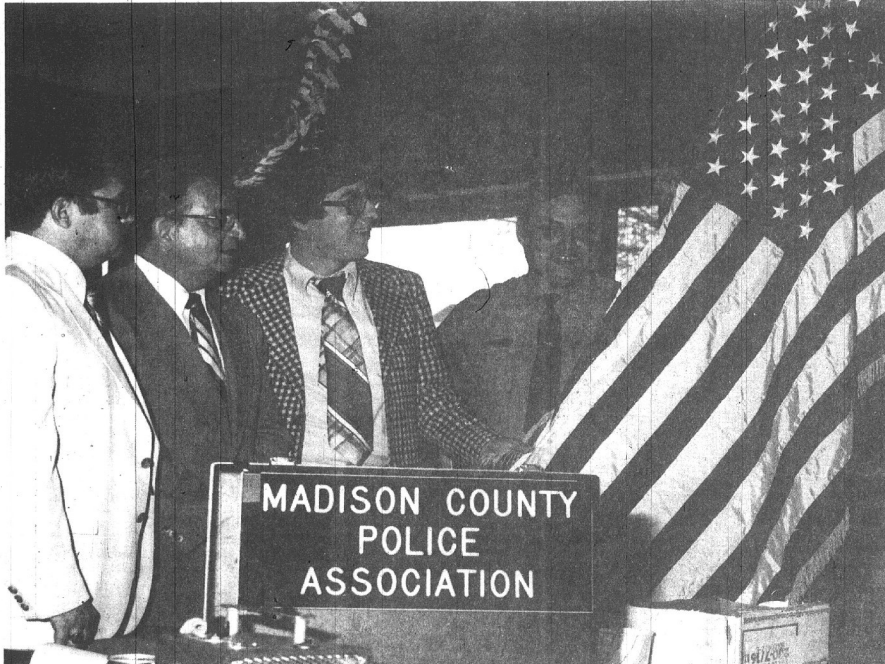

Reynolds also buys other aluminum items such as siding, gutters, storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing, which must be cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and bundled.

Aluminum castings, including pots and pans, power lawnmower housings and barbecue grills are also purchased and recycled.

HOT TAP WATER HAZARD TO YOUNG

According to the Office of the State Fire Marshal, increasing numbers of children are receiving serious burns from hot tap water. A spokesman said parents should be aware of the dangers and take the following precautions: never leave a child alone in the bathtub for even a minute; instruct older children in the safe use of showers and hot water; and lower the water heater to 110 degrees F.

Cystic fibrosis bike ride planned June 7

Quad-City area youngsters have been invited to participate in the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Saturday, June 7, (rain date of Saturday, June 14). The event is open to anyone wishing to help children and young adults who suffer with cystic fibrosis, a fatal lung and digestive-damaging disease.

Jim Colp, Don Spaul and Lillian Singer are co-chairmen of the Granite City, Mitchell and Pontoon Beach bike-a-thon.

When you ride on Saturday, June 7, you'll be doing what a lot of kids with CF wish they could do. There are many youngsters in this country who can't ride because their health won't let them. And they need our help for research to find a cure for cystic fibrosis and medical care that helps them live longer," the co-chairman said.

To enter the bike-a-thon, residents of the Quad-Cities may obtain sponsor sheets at the J & R Bicycle Shop in Bellemore Village. If students still have the sponsor sheets that were handed out at the schools earlier in the year, they may use them. After obtaining sponsors among friends, relatives and neighbors, participants will ride the two-mile course as many times as they want. After the bike-a-thon, pledges will be collected and based on the number of miles each participant has ridden.

Colp, Cubmaster of Pack 22, has issued a challenge to all Cub Packs and Boy Scout Troops to match Pack 22 pledges.

Every participant who turns in $25 or more, within 10 days after the bike-a-thon, will receive a T-shirt. The top money raiser will receive a trophy and also, Sheriff Emil Toffant will give to the top money raiser four box seat tickets to a Cardinal baseball game.

Even those who can't participate in the event, may help lung damaged children by sponsoring those who are giving their time and energy to help less fortunate youngsters, says Colp.

The 1½-mile course will start at Niedringhaus School, 29th and State streets, at 10 a.m. Saturday, with riders traveling south on State to 27th Street, west on 27th Street to Benton Street and north on Fehling Road to State, turning south on State to the school before starting the same course again.

The bicyclists will continue to ride until 2 p.m. Registration will take place between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Saturday.

GC writer wins U. of I. awards

Constance Corzilius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. (Nona) Corzilius, 2100 Lindell Blvd., has been awarded the J. Kerker Quinn Award by the English Department of the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana.

The award of $500, which is reserved for the most promising student writer at the university, was unanimously given for a manuscript of Miss Corzilius' poetry.

She was nominated by Prof. Laurence Lieberman and her work was reviewed by a panel of nine professors from the creative writing faculty. The award is granted only through the nominating process and in some years is withheld.

Miss Corzilius graduated in May from the University of Illinois, where she was part of the university's Honors Program and was a James Scholar.

CONSTANCE CORZILIUS

In addition to the J. Kerker Quinn honor, the young woman received the Academy of American Poets' prize of $100, a nationally recognized award, in the university's poetry competition.

This marks the first time in the contest's history that a person has won the award twice. Miss Corzilius also won the award in 1979.

Last year, she was the first place winner in the Leah F. Frelease Short Fiction competition. As a sophomore, she received second prize in the fiction contest.

Earlier this spring, the Granite Cityan was awarded first honorable mention in the Wednesday Club of St. Louis' annual poetry contest.

The latter event, now in its 50th year, is open to all adults within a 50-mile radius of St. Louis and is judged by a panel of university poet-professors. The awards were bestowed at a banquet at the Wednesday Club facility in Ladue.

While a student at the University of Illinois, Miss Corzilius was employed at McKinley Presbyterian Foundation, where she also served on the Membership Care committee and was president of McKinley Undergrads.

She also was employed at The Daily Illini, the student newspaper, and worked three summers for Granite City Steel.

She is presently employed at the Auler Law Offices, Urbana, as a legal secretary. Miss Corzilius is planning to attend graduate school next year, studying English and creative writing.

The award winner graduated from Granite City High School South in 1976, where she was editor of the Granite High World student newspaper.

Flags back at full staff

Governor James R. Thompson directed that all flags be raised back to the peak, effective at noon Friday, May 30. The governor had directed that flags be flown at half-staff in Illinois to honor the eight men who died in the Iranian hostage rescue attempt.

Initially, it was intended that the flags remain at half-staff until the hostages were returned. However, because of protests from veterans' groups, the governor is now seeking another appropriate symbol by which Illinoisans can honor those who died in the rescue attempt.

WEIGHING 192 TONS and requiring a special crane with a capacity of 200 tons, a large box destined for the Air Products and Chemical Co., 2200 Monroe St., is lifted from a barge at the Tri-City Regional Port Thursday afternoon before it was slowly moved to the company's plant. Two dollies, each having 32 solid rubber tires, are below the box, which dwarfs the workmen around it. The box was bolted to the dollies and then hooked to a truck tractor for the move.

The tractor was weighted with a steel ingot weighing 25,000 pounds to maintain traction. The box was moved down the access road of Locks No. 27 to Route 3. It then proceeded to Niedringhaus Avenue, which it followed to 20th Street, crossing Madison Avenue and then continuing to Monroe Street, where it was taken across several parking lots of Granite City Steel to the plant. The box is valued at in excess of $5 million.

LIFTING THE WIRES. Workmen for Illinois Power, Illinois Bell and Argus Cable TV precede a large box — weighing 192 tons and 16x17x102 feet in size — lifting wires to allow its transportation from the Tri-City Regional Port to Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., 2200 Monroe St. The move was made Thursday afternoon by the Wilbur Waggoner Trucking Co., Madison, and required a special crane with a capacity of 200 tons to lift the box from a barge to waiting dollies. The box was accompanied by a back-up truck tractor, several other vehicles and an entourage of workmen on foot who helped the driver guide the load during the more than two-hour trip across Granite City.

Millipedes a problem

By RON CORNWELL
County Farm Advisor

Sowbugs and millipedes are common in some cases around the foundation of houses, shrubbery beds and other areas where decaying plant material exists around the home.

They become a real nuisance when they start moving into basement areas. Millipedes and sowbugs will not bite or do damage in homes.

Sowbugs and pillbugs are small, hard-shelled, tubular bodied animals. They are segmented and have 7 pairs of legs. Pillbugs roll up into a tight little ball when disturbed, while sowbugs do not.

Millipedes are wormlike animals with two pairs of legs on each body segment. They have 30 or more pairs of short legs spaced uniformly along the entire length of their body.

The adults are 1 to 2 inches long and are brown, tan or gray in color. Millipedes will also curl into a ball when disturbed.

The other animal that might be confused with the millipede is the house centipede. The house centipede has long antennae on the head with 15 pairs of long legs. The centipede moves rapidly when disturbed, while the millipede is slow moving and curls when disturbed.

The above mentioned animals are not insects but related arthropods.

Millipedes and sowbugs are controlled by removing accumulations of leaves and other litter around the foundation should be sealed foundation should be sealed to reduce the number of pests entering.

New building in town budget

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record
A new 1980-81 budget for Granite City Township totaling $784,876 and including $52,200 for capital expenditures out of federal revenue sharing funds, has been posted for public inspection at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens in the city hall. Stevens also is town clerk.

The new budget is a decrease of $15,025 below last year's township appropriation of $802,905 and is made up of projected expenditures of $294,506 in the town fund, $241,360 in the general assistance fund, $68,000 in the municipal retirement fund and $181,010 in the federal revenue sharing account.

A public hearing on the appropriation bill has been scheduled for 7 p.m. June 17 in the City Council chambers. The aldermen, who also make up the Town Board, will act on the budget bill immediately following the hearing.

The revenue sharing budget sets up an appropriation of $40,000 for construction of a storage building adjacent to the Town Hall building at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue and includes proposed expenditure of $1,200 for improvements at the gymnasium of North High School, $9,000 for construction of a fence at Anchorage Homes and $2,000 for the purchase of a new piano at the Township building.

Other revenue sharing items budgeted include $19,250 for social services for the elderly and $57,280 for facilities and recreation. $30,000 for two van drivers and $13,630 for the transportation dispatcher. The new budget bill projects expenditures of $294,506 in the town fund, the principal expenditure listed at $211,894 to finance the assessing office, plus $20,000 salary and $1,200 in expense funds for the town assessor, Von Dee Cruse. Budgeted items for the assessor's office include $5,000 in legal fees for Cruse in a law suit filed earlier this year.

A total of $160,000 is budgeted for payment of salaries to the chief deputy assessor, office clerks and real estate deputies and $6,400 is appropriated for payment of rent to Granite City for the assessor's quarters in the city hall. Office equipment for the assessor's office is budgeted at $10,000, down $14,000 from last year's budget of $24,000 for that purpose.

Last year's budget for the assessor's office totaled $217,100, of which $158,000 was earmarked for clerks and deputies salaries. The town fund budget also provides $32,900 for compensation of town officers, including the assessor's salary of $20,000. The amount also includes $4,200 for payment of per diem fees to city aldermen who serve as auditors on the town board, and $8,400 in salary to the supervisor of general assistance who is Township Supervisor Nelson Hagauer.

The town fund also projects $11,412 for the Office equipment for the town collector's office. Major cost items are $6,500 in salaries for deputies and clerks and $3,000 for postage and envelopes. Other town fund items in the new budget are $3,500 for the annual audit, $6,000 for legal costs, $2,700 for town officers' bonds, $6,000 in expenses for attending schools and seminars, $1,500 for contingencies and $15,000 for insurance.

The general assistance budget of $241,360 appropriates $140,500 for home relief purposes which include $100,000 for food, $8,500 for rent, $1,000 for fuel and $7,000 for lighting. A total of $24,000 is included for medical care.

Another $20,000 is appropriated for hospital payments. Also projected in the general assistance budget is $79,360 for administration costs, of which $62,900 is for salaries, $3,000 for office supplies, $1,000 for furniture and equipment, $5,000 for utilities, $3,000 for janitor services and $4,000 for janitor supplies.

The revenue sharing budget also sets up $12,000 for maintenance of a park area in the township.

Auxiliaries name Girl Staters

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Three young women from the Quad-Cities have been selected to attend the 40th annual session of the American Legion Auxiliary's Illinois Girls State.

The program will take place from June 15 through June 21 on the campus of MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill.

Representing American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 of Granite City will be Loretta J. Rutledge, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Rutledge, 2809 Fortune Drive, and Cynthia Goeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Goeller, 3300 Country Place.

Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary Unit 307 will be represented by Ida Elaine White, granddaughter of Mrs. Ida H. White, 203 Granville St., Venice.

The Illinois Girls State is a mythical state patterned after the State of Illinois and its governing policies follow Illinois governmental procedures as closely as possible.

The girls study and elect officials for city, county and state posts and also elect individuals as state senators and representatives.

Two political parties are formed, known as the Federalists and Nationalists, who hold caucuses, conventions and spirited election campaigns.

The Girls State program is described as a "practical application of Americanism and good citizenship accomplished through non-political efforts to teach and inculcate youth with a love of America and a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation."

Girls chosen to participate are selected for their leadership qualities and citizenship.

Cynthia Goeller is a junior at Granite City High School North and a member of St. John United Church of Christ.

She is a math and science major and a member of the National Honor Society. She took part in girl's track and basketball for three years and volleyball for one year and was athletic trainer one year.

Cynthia has been a member of the Silver Spirits for three years and a board member for one year. She performed in the junior skit and is a soccer enthusiast.

She served as president of her freshman class in 1977-78.

She is an active participant in the volleyball and softball program and is a member of the Venice Pop Club and Future Homemakers of America.

Loretta Rutledge is majoring in business at Granite City High School South, where she plays first chair oboe in the Warrior Band.

Loretta is an active member of Central Christian Church and the church choir and also serves as treasurer of the Christian Youth Fellowship.

At the 1980 Illinois Girls State, Miss Dorothy Hinson, 1330 Third St., Madison, will serve as assistant dean of education for the fourth consecutive year.

Miss Hinson, a member of Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary Unit #307, has participated in the program for many years and previously was a guest speaker on Illinois government and served as a staff advisor and a member of the elections staff.

Mrs. Loretta Rutledge is serving as Girls State chairman for Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, a position she has held for the past several years.

Mrs. Durbin and Mrs. Doris Edwards, an auxiliary member, were accompanied by Loretta and her mother, Mrs. Joyce Rutledge, and Cynthia and her grandmother, Mrs. Helen Gieszelmann, to a recent tea at the Belleville Freedom Farm.

During the program, the girls and their families learn more about the activities and training at Girls State.

"This year we begin a new decade of educating young women in the responsibilities of citizenship," Mrs. Durbin said.

"We have an opportunity to 'Take New Action For America.' It is a crucial election year, a year when all citizens should be aware of their rights and responsibilities," the chairman stated.

"The lessons in Americanism taught in the American Legion Auxiliary's Girls State programs will touch the lives of untold numbers.

"Our responsibility is greater this year than ever and we will live up to that responsibility, as we have in the past, by making a contribution to the future of America through the young women we seek to serve this summer," Mrs. Durbin said.

Creates best poster in statewide judging

Governor James R. Thompson has presented eight-year-old Joey Tutka of Troy with the first-place award in a poster contest sponsored by the Illinois State Council on Nutrition. The Tutkas are former Quind-City residents.

Joey, son of James and Carol Tutka, 40 Lake Drive, is a student at St. John Neumann School in Maryville.

Posters were based on the theme of "nutrition awareness and promotion of good eating habits." Joey's entry was in the kindergarten through third grade category.

Joey traveled to Springfield where he, his parents and his teacher, Lyn Lambert, met Gov. Thompson and State Representatives Dwight Friedrich (R-Centralia) and Frank Watson (R-Greenville).

They also met Rep. Pete Peters, ISCOM chairman, on the floor of the House of Representatives and toured Abraham Lincoln's home, the old State Capitol building and other Springfield attractions. The touring group was accompanied by ISCOM Executive Director Virginia Hill and contest winners in two older age groups.

Director Hill said, "The posters were judged on the ability of the artist to portray the importance of good nutrition, using the most creativity and originality. Joey's poster did that beautifully."

"The council received hundreds of posters drawn by students throughout the state. This contest was a marvelous way to teach young people about the importance of good eating habits," Rep. Peters said.

Joey Tutka is a member of the Khoury League and the Cub Scouts and also enjoys football and fishing.

$117 TOOLS TAKEN

Burglars broke into a tool shed at the home of Lawrence Arnold, 2729 Birch Ave., during the weekend and took a power rip saw worth $25, a one-quarter inch drill valued at $36, a three-eighths inch drill worth $40 and a sabre saw valued at $16.

FENCING STOLEN

About 200 feet of stockade fencing and 25 fence posts were stolen from the rear of a house at 2035 Fourteenth St., owned by Joel Joseph, he reported last week. The victim said the fencing, valued at $850, was stolen during the previous 10 days.

INCREASED RABIES CONTROL STRESSED

Fifteen children have been exposed to a rabid dog in a schoolyard in downstate Herrin and will undergo rabies treatment. Officials fear that other dogs may have been exposed to the rabid dog. Illinois law requires rabies vaccination for all dogs over the age of four months.

After the initial vaccination, dogs must be vaccinated annually. Dr. David Bromwell, chief of the Illinois Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Animal Welfare, has urged officials to implement stray control programs. Skunks accounted for 185 of the 220 cases of rabies reported so far this year.

Wilson parents install Mrs. Taft

Mrs. Delores Taft was installed as president of Wilson School District 29 Teacher Association last week at unit's final meeting of the school year.

She succeeds Bill Smithson, who has served as president for two years.

Smithson received a past president's pin and was warmly congratulated by those present.

Mrs. Barbara Haddock of Granite City, District 29 director, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, was the installing officer.

Other members of the 1980-81 officer corps installed were:

Diane Morthland, vice president; Marsha Legate, secretary; and Ray McGee, treasurer.

Mrs. Morthland, retiring membership chairman, reported 272 members were enrolled in Wilson PTA. She was presented a certificate by Mrs. Haddock for increasing membership over 10 percent.

It was noted that at the state PTA convention, the Wilson unit received an award for enrolling 50 "community members." These are persons who do not have school-age children or a child attending Wilson School, Smithson explained.

Delegates to the convention, Ray McGee, Woody Moad and Smithson, displayed an honorable mention certificate received in a "Blue Ribbon Unit" contest, in which 33 units were judged for outstanding work. Glencoe PTA won the top award.

The district director presented a trophy to Tami Knight, a 6th grade pupil, who won first place in district for her entry in the Illinois State PTA cultural arts contest.

Also receiving awards in the same contest were Jerry and Bobby Lipchik.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker, Parenting Program chairman, presented certificates to those who completed the course and Mrs. Chris Kencer reported the school yearbook was distributed May 7.

Mrs. Taft described activities at the May 16 school picnic and Mrs. Liz Smithson, room mothers chairman, expressed appreciation to mothers who have served the past year.

First grade pupils of Miss Susan Doty, Mrs. Doris Peterson and Mrs. Jane Franko entertained the parents with a circus show.

Under the direction of Miss Doty, assisted by Mrs. Sandra Bowler, physical educator, instructor, the children performed magic acts and acrobatics and portrayed animal trainers and clowns.

The grand finale was a maypole dance.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Idell Becker, hospitality chairman.
